

THE WORLD'S ONLY TALKING RABBIT ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK STATE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE.

Olivebridge, NY -- Jack Sunshine, a rabbit living in the Catskill Mountains in New York State, has announced his candidacy for Governor of the state for 2006. Jack, a dummy, will be assisted in his campaign by his stooge, George Sunshine, a Ventriloquist. Jack said, "It wouldn't be the first time a dummy was elected to public office!"

George Sunshine, Ventriloquist and Campaign Manager said, "Jack and I are not so unlike other political teams. One person is out in front, while the other is standing a few steps behind, pulling the strings and doing the talking!"

Jack says, "I intend to hold a great write-in campaign that will give the other candidates a run for their money!"

Jack and his human side-kick George Sunshine, have been entertaining people for the past 30 years. He decided to make a run for political office when a prominent New York politician was charged with embezzling funds. Jack said, "He's been robbing you for years. Give me a chance!"

George & Jack are great interview subjects.

To obtain photos, log onto www.georgesunshine.info

#